

THE BOURBON NEWS.

PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY IN THE YEAR.

VOLUME XXV.

PARIS, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1905.

NUMBER 47.

Rural Route Directory Completed.

The Rural Route Directory of Bourbon county, including all eleven routes, that we have been compiling and publishing has been completed, and will be ready for distribution this morning.

Every merchant in Bourbon should have one as they will be indispensable in sending out your July statements, circulars, advertising matter, etc. Every person who is a subscriber to the Rural Free Delivery system has his name and address in the Directory.

The list of names in this book embraces 1,175 patrons. Every name is arranged alphabetically with address after name.

We already have orders for about half of the edition and will have no trouble of disposing of every copy. Anyone wishing a copy should let us know immediately, as we will no doubt dispose of every one in the next few days.

The price for these valuable books will be $1 cash.

WARM weather warbles at our Mill End Sale. A good strong combination of cool clothes, cool shirt-waists, cool underwear, cool hosiery, allied to cool straw hats and low quarter shoes, prove invincible.

Circuit Court Proceedings.

The Bourbon Circuit Court convened yesterday morning in the beautiful room in the new court house designated for this court. There is the largest docket at this term, both criminal and civil, than has been before for years.

Judge Robt. L. Stout was on the bench and delivered a vigorous charge to the grand jury, calling their attention especially to the violation of the gaming laws and that of carrying concealed weapons. He took occasion to throw bouquets at the Fiscal Court and Building Committee, for their economical, honest and faithful services in erecting such a handsome temple of justice for the good people of Bourbon.

After calling the ordinary appearance docket court adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Judge said he would then adjourn until Monday next on account of the Confederate re-union at Louisville.

The following gentlemen compose the grand jury: S. L. Weathers, foreman; Nat Collier, Wm. Parker, Frank Wilmott, T. Helm Clay, M. H. Current, W. S. Jones, B. F. Stipp, Louis Rogers, W. B. Woodford, Robt. Hughes and Wm. Scott.

NO ARGUMENT, the Walk-Over Shoe is the best.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Nancy Frewitt Boone, formerly of Woodford county, died on Sunday at Birmingham, Ala., in the ninetyeth year of her age. She leaves two sons, George Boone, of Birmingham, and W. H. Boone, of Lexington, formerly of this city.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.

Ollie Ingram, son of Squire Ingram, of Ruddells Mills, and a young man companion had a narrow escape from drowning Sunday night. The heavy rain-fall had washed away the road bed near Flat Run bridge, on Ruddells Mills pike, and while returning home from Paris, at the approach of the bridge, the young men, the mule which they were driving and buggy, all plunged into the creek. The young men were expert swimmers but had a hard fight with the swift current and managed to get out, and after the mule and buggy had been swept down stream about 400 yards, and the mule almost drowned, the brave boys went to the dumb brute's rescue and managed to keep his head above the water until they finally got him safely on shore. It was quite a narrow escape for all of them.

Work Has Begun on the History of Paris and Bourbon County.

By this we mean that the active work of photographing, compiling and illustrating has begun. As we announced in our last issue, the News will issue a handsomely illustrated history of Paris and Bourbon county. This history will mean to the city of Paris and the towns in the county what the Commercial Clubs do to the larger cities throughout the United States. A Commercial Club is an institution formulated by the progressive business men of a city to show to the world at large the manifold advantages that their city possesses over all others; it is managed by men who have business interest in the city, and whose pride in the future welfare of their city is so strong in their hearts that they are willing to take their valuable time and money from their business, to further any proposition that is to the interest of their city. That is why the cities are, as a rule, and have so many more advantages, in the ways of manufactures, etc., than the smaller towns who have no such organizations. And in what way do these Commercial Clubs accomplish all of this good do you ask? By letting the public know what you have to offer as an inducement. And how do they let it be known? By publicity, which is a mild term for advertising. This magazine will be printed in book form, 30 to 40 pages, size 12x18 inches, and will be printed by one of the largest printing plants in the East. There will be over two hundred illustrations used in this book, which will be made by The Newspaper Process Engravers, of Philadelphia, Pa. All photographs used in this book will be made by our special artist. The cover design of this book will be printed in three colors and will represent the most approved style of artistic designing and engraving.

Advertising.—This book will be the means of giving publicity to the entire town and county, which is of course advertising, but it will not be an advertising sheet. We will have a certain amount of advertising set aside for those progressive merchants who wish to put their business before the people of the county is something that the people are interested in, but these advertising pages only. We have selected some of the leading merchants in the various lines whom we will write up and photograph their building, but they will be only the leading ones.

This book will be valuable to file away in the archives of your library to be read and re-read by this and succeeding generations. There will be five thousand of these beautiful books printed and given away as a supplement to this paper, besides a large number of extra copies to be sold at twenty-five cents each.

We shall make this Mill End Sale the event of the season. Nothing like it was ever introduced to the people of Bourbon county.

Every department in our establishment is fully stocked—crowded with the new things turned out by the largest and best mills and factories from both continents. We want this sale to be talked about many days after the event; to be a memorial affair; we will spare no effort to make it so. Every article of merchandise in our store will receive the touch of the Price-Cutting Knife, and if you don't get your share of the bona fide bargains while the sale lasts—'twill be your own fault.

Remember the dates—June 17 to July 1—and come prepared to be surprised at the never-to-be-forgotten values offered for the money.
